DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on February 19, 2007 was considered by the examiner.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-22 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 7-23 of U.S. Patent No. 7,311,398 in view of Blum et al (US 2002/0140899 A1). Claims 1 and 7-23 of U.S. Patent No.

Art Unit: 2873

7,311,398 teach a lens having at least one electro-wetting lens incorporating first and second immiscible fluids wherein variation in the potential difference between first and second electrodes of each electro-wetting lens causes the shape of a boundary between the first and second fluids to alter from a first state in which the second fluid forms a layer across substantially an entire light transmitting area of an internal surface of the lens. Claims 1 and 7-23 of U.S. Patent No. 7,311,398 do not specifically teach that the fluids can have dissimilar light transmitting properties. Blum et al teaches an electro-wetting lens used with the eyes can have a liquid crystal layer that is utilized to create an electronic tint or sunglass effect (see paragraphs [0167] and [0208]).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a first fluid layer that is a better light transmitter than the second fluid in the lens of Claims 1 and 7-23 of U.S. Patent No. 7,311,398, since as shown by the Blum et al, a fluid layer can be provided that has a different light transmission property to create a sunglass effect in electro-wetting lenses. As taught by ('398), claim 15, the first and second fluids are of the same specific gravity.
